

Risk Disclosure and Disclaimer

Alfabourse Finance aims to provide its clients with advanced trading tools, including a real-time platform. However, we do not engage in speculation nor do we encourage it. Please be aware that trading solely based on theoretical strategies carries high risk. Such trading may not be suitable for all financial professionals, so it is important to understand the risks before commencing trading. You acknowledge that trades conducted with Alfabourse Finance may involve financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange or subject to speculative operations. Assessing and controlling the risks associated with trading require careful examination and cannot be precisely predetermined. Trading in financial instruments is typically associated with significant risks, unlike other forms of investments such as venture plans and capital protection. We do not provide any guarantees or promises regarding the performance of your account or your assumptions. The value of your investments may both increase and decrease, and no guarantees are provided.

Forex trading is highly risky and may not be suitable for all investors. Clients should be prepared to lose a portion or all of their investment capital, thus only capital that the client can afford to lose should be used. The client should be fully aware of all risks associated with margin trading. This document confirms that the client is informed of the aforementioned risks. Considering the high degree of risk involved in trading, we do not provide explicit or implied guarantees, nor can we guarantee that the client will make any profits or avoid losses in their transactions.

Additionally, Alfabourse Finance does not assume responsibility for the accuracy of data or the content provided by third parties through this website or on it. When using the website and its features, the Terms and Conditions should be taken into account, which may be amended by Alfabourse Finance at its discretion. There is a risk of incurring partial or total losses of your funds when conducting trades. Regardless of the funds you use, it is essential to be aware of the possibility of rapid market changes. Never risk more than you can afford to lose.
